Former NBA Player Pleads in West Hollywood Assault Case

A former NBA player has pleaded no contest to assaulting a man outside a West Hollywood club last year, the Los Angeles County District Attorney's Office announced today.

Ronald Glen Davis (dob 1/1/86) of Tarzana entered his plea yesterday to one felony count of battery with serious bodily injury.

As part of the plea agreement, he is required to complete 320 hours of community labor over the next year. He also paid $104,479 in restitution.

If he completes the community labor and breaks no other laws, the battery count will be reduced to a misdemeanor when he is scheduled to be sentenced on Dec. 15, 2020 in Department 82 of the Los Angeles County Superior Court, Airport Branch.

On April 8, 2018, Davis threw a victim into a wall during an altercation outside of a club in the 600 block of Robertson Boulevard, prosecutors said.

Case SA098144 was investigated by the Los Angeles County Sheriff's Department, West Hollywood Station.
